Webinar: Host Applicant Webinar and Tweet Up
Wednesday, October 18, 2016 3:00 - 4:00pm

Kristen Regina, NDSR Art Project Director
Karina Wratschko, NDSR Art Project Manager

✉️ ndsr@philamuseum.org
🐦 #NDSRArt
Host Selection Timeline & Process

Host Selection
Monday, October 31, 2016 – Host applications due
early December 2016 – Site visits
December 2016 – Site agreement contracts
Monday, January 16, 2017 – Selected hosts announced
Selected hosts present projects to resident applicants

Resident Selection
Tuesday, February 28, 2017 – Resident applications due
March-April, 2017 – Hosts interview and select top resident applicants

2017/18 Residency
July, 24-28, 2017 – Immersion Week
August 1, 2017 – Residents begin projects at host organizations
Monetary Requirements
Monetary Requirements

NDSR Art
• Resident’s stipend ($40,000)

Host Institution
• Indirect costs of hiring residents
  This includes the payment and withholding of any and all applicable taxes for hiring an employee in the host’s city/state
• Mentor’s travel expenses
Application Checklist
Application Checklist

✓ Application Form
✓ Statement of Interest
✓ Letter of Commitment
✓ Identification of Mentor(s) and CV
✓ ARLIS/NA mentor (optional)
Application Form

• Project Proposal
Project Proposal

- Challenging
- Leadership Opportunities
- Digital Preservation
- Contribute to the Field
THE NDSR PROGRAMS

The mission of the National Digital Stewardship Residency (NDSR) is to build a dedicated community of professionals who will advance our nation’s capabilities in managing, preserving, and making accessible the digital record of human achievement.

The NDSR program began in 2013, with a pilot project developed by the Library of Congress in conjunction with the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS). The original goals of the program were to foster the creation of a cadre of experts in the field and to encourage LIS schools to include more experiential learning as part of their standard curricula. Subsequently, grants were awarded by IMLS for the Metropolitan New York Library Council in partnership with the Brooklyn Historical Society and Harvard University Libraries in partnership with MIT to continue testing the NDSR model in other cities around the United States. Most recently, WGBH and the American Archive of Public Broadcasting have been awarded a grant to develop a geographically distributed cohort of residents, with a focus on digital audiovisual archiving.

NDSR projects to date include:

NDSR DC – the pilot NDSR program, administered by the Library of Congress, which ran from 2013-2014, and is currently hosting a second class of 2015-2016 residents. Contact: ndsr@loc.gov

NDSR NY – a two-year NDSR program administered by the Metropolitan New York Library Council in partnership with the Brooklyn Historical Society, which hosted its first class of residents from 2014-2015 and is currently hosting a second class of 2015-2016 residents. Contact: Margo Padilla, NDSR-NY Principal Investigator, mpadilla@metro.org

NDSR Boston – a two-year NDSR program administered by Harvard University Libraries and MIT Libraries, hosting two classes of residents from 2014-2015, which hosted its first class of residents from 2014-2015 and is currently hosting a second class of 2015-2016 residents. Contact: ndsr-boston@hul.harvard.edu

AAPB NDSR – a one-year NDSR program administered by WGBH and the American Archive of Public Broadcasting, which will be hosting one class of residents from 2016-2017. Contact: Rebecca Fraimow, AAPB NDSR Program Coordinator, rebecca_fraimow@wgbh.org

NDSR Art – a two-year NDSR program administered by the Philadelphia Museum of Art and the Art Libraries Society of North America (ARLIS-NA), which will focus on art information management and begin in the fall of 2016. Contact: Karina Wratschko, NDSR Art Project Manager, karina.wratschko@philamuseum.org

Biodiversity Heritage Libraries NDSR – a one-year NDSR program administered by the Ernst Mayr Library of the Museum of Comparative Zoology, Harvard University, which will include five residents in a collaborative project to improve tools, curation, and content stewardship at BHL. Contact: Constance Rinaldo, Librarian of the Ernst Mayr Library, Museum of Comparative Zoology, Harvard University, c.rinaldo@fas.harvard.edu

All programs give their thanks to the Institute of Museum and Library Services for funding, collaboration, and their overall program support.
CURRENT RESIDENTS AND HOSTS

NDSR DC 2015-2016 Residents and Hosts

Resident: John Caldwell
Host: U.S. Senate Historical Office
Project: Improving Digital Stewardship in the U.S. Senate

Resident: Nicole Contaxis
Host Mentors: Ben Peterson and Rebecca Warlow, National Library of Medicine
Project: NLM-Developed Software as Cultural Heritage

Resident: Valerie Collins
Host Mentor: Nancy Hadley, The American Institute of Architects
Project: Building Curation into Records Creation: Developing a Digital Repository Program at the American Institute of Architects

Resident: Jaime Mauro
Host Mentors: Lauren Algee and Nicholas Kerechuk, DC Public Library
Project: Personal Digital Preservation Access and Education through the Public Library Project Blog

Resident: Jessica Tieman
Host Mentors: Lisa Laffan and David Walls, Government Publishing Office
Project: Preparation for Audit and Certification of GPO’s FDsys as a Trustworthy Digital Repository

NDSR NY 2015-2016 Residents and Hosts

Resident Blog

Resident: Carmel Curtis
Host: Brooklyn Academy of Music
Project: The Archives and the Born-Digital Asset Life Cycle at the Performing Arts Institution

Resident: Dinah Handel
Host Mentor: Dave Rice, CUNY Television
Project: Harnessing Media Micro-Services for Stewardship of Digital Assets at CUNY TV

Resident: Genevieve Havermeyer-King
Host Mentors: Lillian Dawson and Kim Fisher, Wildlife Conservation Society
Project: Piloting Workflows and Systems for Long-term Preservation of Born-digital Content from the Wildlife Conservation Society’s Education, Exhibit, and Geospatial Analysis Departments

Resident: Mary Kidd
Host Mentors: John Pasamonte and Andy Lenz, New York Public Radio

NDSR ON TWITTER

#ndsr
Application Form

- Project Proposal
- Context
- Required Resources
- Benefit and Additional Support
- Service Agreement
Host Selection Timeline & Process

Host Selection
Monday, October 31, 2016 – Host applications due
early December 2016 – Site visits
December 2016 – Site agreement contracts
Monday, January 16, 2017 – Selected hosts announced
Selected hosts present projects to resident applicants

Resident Selection
Tuesday, February 28, 2017 – Resident applications due
March-April, 2017 – Hosts interview and select top resident applicants

2017/18 Residency
July, 24-28, 2017 – Immersion Week
August 1, 2017 – Residents begin projects at host organizations
Site Visit Evaluation Criteria

- Physical Work Environment
- Mentors
- Support of Senior Management
- Project Infrastructure
- Culture
Thank you!

ndsr@philamuseum.org